STANDARDS FOR COUNSELORS

1. All counselors must be communicant members of an evangelical church. Assistant counselors may be covenant non-communicant members (i.e. believing children of parents who are professing Christians and are members in good standing of an evangelical church).
2. Counselors must promote and maintain discipline throughout the conference.
  - Know where your campers are at all times
  - Make sure campers attend all activities and are on time. Exceptions are approved only by the nurse, conference director or dean.
  - Report all serious or persistent infractions to the conference director or dean.
  - Notify the conference director if you need rest or a break.
  - Abide by the "Rules for Campers". (Counselors have many responsibilities but few privileges.)
3. Counselors must promote and maintain the atmosphere of the conference.
  - Be sure cabins, washhouses and grounds are cared for and kept clean.
  - Make sure campers remain in their cabins at night and are quiet. Counselor and/or cabin parties are prohibited.
  - Direct any questions or problems to the conference director (including any problems with the facilities).
  - Sunday must be observed as a Sabbath to the Lord.
4. Counselors must promote and maintain the theme and purpose of the conference.
  - Enjoy your campers. Participate in all activities with them; sit with them; eat with them.
  - Prepare (in advance) and conduct cabin devotions each night.
  - Speak to each assigned camper in a personal, heart-to-heart way about his or her salvation.
  - Provide conference director with a report on each assigned camper before leaving.
  - Write at least one letter to each assigned camper after the conference.

RULES FOR CAMPERS

1. Christian standards of conduct as outlined in the infallible Word of God are expected at all times throughout the conference. This includes respect for authority, courtesy for others, and care for the property.
2. Campers must obey the park rules.
  - No drugs, alcohol, or firearms are permitted on the conference grounds. (Prescription drugs must be registered with the nurse, and taken only with his/her knowledge.)
  - Care for and protect plant and animal life, grounds, and park property. This includes maintaining the cleanliness of the buildings and the grounds.
3. Campers must obey the conference rules.
  - No smoking, drug or alcohol use is permitted on the conference grounds.
  - Remain on the conference grounds unless part of a scheduled activity, or with specific permission by the conference director. Hiking may only be done with a counselor or a staff member, and with the director's permission.
  - No campers may visit any unit other than his/her own. There is to be no raiding of cabins, even within one's own unit.
  - Taps means lights out and quiet. Remain in your cabin until reveille.
4. Campers must contribute to the purpose of the conference.
  - Clothing must reflect Christian standards of decency and modesty, and should be appropriate for a Bible conference within a group camping environment. Clothing which inherently may be considered revealing, immodest or inappropriate, or which is worn in an inappropriate or revealing manner, will not be permitted.
  - No portable electronic devices, comic books or water balloons are permitted.
  - Couples will refrain from inappropriate public displays of affection, and will remain with the group at all times.
  - Skits and songs must be appropriate to a Bible conference.
  - Sunday must be observed as a Sabbath to the Lord.
5. Campers must contribute to the smooth operations of the conference.
  - Keep in touch with your counselor at all times and follow all direct and reasonable requests which may be given by the adults in charge.
  - Follow the schedule. Be on time for and attend all activities unless excused by the nurse, conference director or dean. (Counselors do not have authority to excuse campers.)
  - Assist in duties (such as table setting, grounds cleaning, etc.) as requested.
